It began as a quest to save the life of a friend and grew into a project that encompassed scientists, engineers, researchers, universities, doctors, naturopaths, intuitive healers and historians. It ended with a patent and the Personal Moonlight Collector. Now you can experience the benefits of moonlight therapy for yourself.

The Moonlight Collector is made up of 84 individually handcrafted precision mirrors in a parabolic frame. This frame is attached to a lightweight tubular steel structure with a remote controlled telescope motor. This creates a heavenly concentrated beam of light illuminating your face or any part of your body that you choose.
